

SAVE THE DATE!

Saturday 24TH April 2010 is World Meningitis Day

The first World Meningitis Day in 2009 heralded the beginning of a global community joining hands against meningitis. Our virtual community now links 31 states in the USA and 33 countries around the World, reaching across the globe from North and South America, through Europe to the Middle East, into the Indian subcontinent and through South East Asia and the Far East to Australia. Hands are joined across State lines, across country borders and across continents, making it truly a world event.

You can help make World Meningitis Day 2010 and our virtual community even bigger by Joining Hands Against Meningitis across the globe to help raise awareness of the disease, to raise funds for research to prevent the disease and to support those touched by meningitis.
